Schindellegi, June 2026 – Sukano, a global specialist in color and additive masterbatches and high-performance compounds partnered with H Ltd&Co Chile, a trusted supplier to plastic converters. The partnership combines Sukano's extensive expertise in PET and rPET solutions and broad product portfolio with H Ltd&Co's deep understanding of the Chilean PET/rPET packaging market and strong local technical capabilities.

With H Ltd&Co, Sukano has found a dedicated and experienced partner to strengthen its presence and support continued growth in the Chilean market. Together, the companies bring innovative solutions to the Chilean market across packaging, extrusion, thermoforming, biopolymers, engineering polymers, healthcare, construction, durable goods, and fibers.

Customer benefit from responsive local support and technical guidance, backed by global expertise and innovative solutions that enhance performance, increase productivity, improve recyclability, and support circularity goals. Through this partnership, Chilean converters gain easier access to advanced, value-added plastic solutions and the expertise needed to accelerate their journey toward true circularity.
